God Is All Powerful!

Israelites versus Egyptians

What You Need:

- Colored cloth
- Four sheets of paper that say: RED SEA, WILDERNESS, PILLAR OF FIRE, GUIDED BY CLOUD
- tape

Divide the family into two groups -- one group will be the Israelites and the other group will be the Egyptians. Each team can be given their own colored cloth to put on top of their heads or to stick in their shirt so the teams are identified. Stick the sheets of paper on 4 sides of the room -- one can say RED SEA, one wall can say WILDERNESS; one could be PILLAR OF FIRE and the other can say GUIDED BY CLOUD. The teams will have to listen very carefully as the caller will shout out the team name and which area to run to as a team. Ex: ISRAELITES TO THE RED SEA: or EGYPTIANS TO THE WILDERNESS, ISRAELITES GUIDED BY FIRE, etc. Only one team will be running to their area of the room at a time.

Red Sea Walk

What you need:

- chairs
- colored cloth
- "walking stick"

Place a long line of chairs in 2 rows for the family to run through with the back of the chairs faced inside the area family members will walk or run through. Family members will line up and each member will put on a colored cloth on the head and take a "walking stick" and run through the "RED SEA" and then will bring the cloth and stick to the next family member in the line up and children will continue to RUN thru the "RED SEA" until everyone has had an opportunity to do the "walk".

PHARAOH'S ARMY RELAY

The family can divide up into groups of two and take turns running to a wall, while one family member carries another family member on his back, using the bigger family member on the bottom to carry a lighter weight family member.
